

Vojto Artz as the main star of the unique Von Roll Culinary week

MT. CHOPOK (9th February 2015) – The most delicate tastes and pleasures are what the second year of a special food festival held in a luxurious a la carte restaurant on Mt. Chopok is about. The Von Roll Culinary Week will please all taste buds on 13th and 14th February 2015 again, this time under the baton of renowned chef Vojto Artz. The standard is raised really high at the altitude of 1,670 metres – in the stylish Von Roll Restaurant Luková. Lovers of high-quality food can look forward to an 8 course menu, 10 various tastes, original wines and high-quality services. A well-known chef, whose main life's passion is good food and cooking, promises a truly unique experience.

Fans of the Von Roll Culinary Week will have a chance to take their taste buds high to the sky thanks to non-traditional transport with a grooming machine, taste fresh and extraordinary meals, discover real culinary fireworks of the best tastes and enjoy a special open-kitchen show. The most popular mountain restaurant among alpine resorts - Von Roll Restaurant Luková, which was ranked first in the international evaluation system of ski resorts and their quality (Skiareatest) and also holds two sabrage records, has hedged their bets on impression and tradition this year. “We have focused on fresh and high-quality ingredients, simple tastes and interesting service. The Von Roll Culinary Week will be wrapped in mystery, cold, falling fog and ice because this is what Jasná is about. I and my team will prepare 8 courses and 10 gastronomy experiences. I am looking forward to coming to the region of Liptov after a couple of years again, to an area I know very well, where I used to work in the past, met great people and found many friends. On the other hand, all this returning is partly strange and truly binding. The guests will be expecting something special from me,” said Vojto Artz.
